Being a Keyworker II – The Rehabilitation Journey

A VICSERV Specialist Training Program

Program Aim:

To assist Keyworkers in knowing when and how to proceed as they begin to work with a new consumer. By using rehabilitation process framework the Keyworker will explore how consumers understand this and can participate fully in their own process. This understanding may assist the Keyworker and consumer relationship and reduce the likelihood of creating further barriers to recovery.

The VICSERV Practice Text To Be A Keyworker will be provided to participants who attend this VICSERV Specialist Training program.

Learning Outcomes:

- To demonstrate an ability to assist the empowerment of clients
- To define the barriers to recovery as experienced by clients in your service
- To describe the rehabilitation process as it relates to each person
- To explain the concept of readiness for rehabilitation and how it can be assessed and further developed in each individual

Program Content:

- A definition of empowerment
- The backdrop to the rehabilitation process
- Phases of change and growth
- Barriers to recovery and rehabilitation
- Readiness for rehabilitation
- Externalising conversations

Who should attend?

- Workers who have completed the Orientation program and/or Keyworker I
- Or Workers with more than 6 months experience
- Workers who wish to further explore the complexities of rehabilitation and recovery
