

2010 National Standards for Mental Health Services

Session Overview

The 2010 National Standards for Mental Health Services and associated guidelines for non-government agencies were released in late 2010. VICSERV in conjunction with the Department of Health are hosting a series of regional workshops to explore how the revised standards will impact on the community-managed mental health sector.

These workshops will give quality and service improvement leaders and service managers a base-knowledge of the Standards as well as ideas about how they can be integrated into existing quality frameworks.
